

6 February 2006

For Immediate Release

Diversified Unveils New Website

Scranton, PA – Diversified Information Technologies, a business process outsourcing company, today re-launched its website, www.divintech.com. The site features a new design, improved functionality and more customer solutions. In addition, there are new video clips outlining product and service offerings throughout the site. Regular visitors to the website will see more information, updated press releases, client case studies and more when it goes live on Monday, February 6, 2006. Launch for the new site is set to coincide with new end to end solution products that Diversified is delivering to the marketplace.

Diversified Information Technologies is an international business process management firm providing HIPAA-compliant, ISO-certified services to clients in the energy, finance, government, healthcare, and legal industries that are quality driven and results oriented. Diversified's service portfolio includes: workflow analysis, electronic mailroom, document imaging, data capture, forms and claims processing, electronic storage and access, and records management, all designed to integrate into clients' workflow for the seamless management of information vital to clients' end-to-end operations.

.....
Press Contact:
Marlene Marriggi
570-496-1812