SCRANTON, Pa.-June 15, 2007- The Northeastern Pennsylvania Nonprofit & Community Assistance Center honored United Neighbor Centers of Northeastern Pennsylvania for the Inner City Music Program, conceived and underwritten by Diversified Information Technologies, at ceremonies on June 14, 2007 at the Radison Hotel/Convention Center in Scranton.

UNC, one of two organizations honored in the Children and Youth Category, administers the program for Diversified, which makes available music lessons on the piano and violin, as well as providing student violins and the use of its Steinway Grand Piano, for qualifying Inner City youth. The program is conducted in the Melberger Arts Center Gallery in the lobby of Diversified's Headquarters and from its inception in October of 2006, with 12 students, it has grown to 50 students and from one day to four days per week.

Shown in the picture are, from left to right, Anna Cervenak, a member of the Board of NCAC as well as one of the judges for the 6 categories honored at the event; Gary Boam, Director of Governmental and Community Affairs for Diversified; Lea Dougherty, Dep. Executive Director of United Neighborhood Centers and Kristin Dreisbaugh, UNC coordinator of the Inner City Youth Program.
